Ivan Milic

---

CAPTAIN

Croatian

After graduating Maritime University and obtaining highest degrees, Ivan spent the last eight years in the yachting industry, building extensive experience navigating the Adriatic. Being connected with sea all his life, pursuing a career in maritime was a natural choice. His expertise in navigation, safety, and hospitality ensures that every journey is both secure and enjoyable for his guests. He is fluent in English.

As a captain of the younger generation, he blends traditional seamanship with a modern, dynamic approach. His calm personality, strong leadership skills, and professional yet welcoming attitude create an atmosphere of trust and comfort on board. Passionate about working with people, he sees every trip as an opportunity to share his knowledge while continuously improving himself. With a focus on safety and excellence, he ensures an unforgettable yacht charter experience for all who come aboard.

Duje Ivancev

---

CHEF

Croatian

Duje is young but already experienced chef with lots of experience in haute cuisine at high standard hotels and yachts. In his work, he always strives for a balance between the wishes of guests and great culinary dishes he can offer. Duje speaks English very well, he is very polite and discrete person, yet a very open for discussing any gastromomic ideas. During his studies, he attended practical classes at the famous Split restaurants Caper and Movi where he later took his first mandate as a chef. He participated in numerous competitions, won many and finally graduated as MASTER CHEF at Croatian Chamber of Crafts. Since being a child, Duje felt a passion for cooking and knew he will become a chef in the future. For the last seven years, that is his passion and profession. He spent all his time on the Adriatic islands and fell in love with the sea and seafood. His specialty is the Mediterranean cuisine but later on, he learnt a lot about several major regions, including Asian cuisine that he outstandingly combines with the Mediterranean one. During your stay on PHANTOM you will enjoy in his magnificent food.
