CREW PROFILE

AMADA MIA LAGOON 65

Captain RATKO TOMIC

Nationality Croatian

Ratko has been sailing all his life, fine tuning his skills with guests in charter for more than a decade and has proven to be an excellent skipper. From the beginning of his professional career he has specialized in catamarans. Also, his excellent knowledge of boats is a result of his previous employment in boat sales. Ratko's understanding of the catamaran itself, combined with his easygoing character promise a glorious sailing vacation exploring the most popular or the most secluded spots. He works with a team of two, providing five star service and memorable experience for his guests. His hobby is fishing while sailing and skiing when he is on the land.

Chef NIKOLINA SESTAK

Nationality Croatian

Although Nikolina graduated from the Faculty of Forestry, professional chef Nikolina has many years of experience in menu planning and meal preparation under her belt. In her student days, she was a hostess in a restaurant and quickly grew fascinated with all aspects of food production and consumption. Over the years, she upgraded to a restaurant manager and finally, a chef on various luxury yachts on the Adriatic. Nikolina is friendly and thoughtful, you can be certain she will always make sure all your dietary requirements are met. Do you prefer a macrobiotic, gluten - free, vegetarian, or maybe even vegan menu? No worries, just say the words and Nikolina will provide you with fresh and tasty food that is also appealing to the eye. Communication won't be a problem since Nikolina can keep a conversation going in four languages - English, French, Slovenian, and German. Not only is she smart, she is also very active. Some of her hobbies are yoga, swimming, hiking, and biking.

Stewardess ARIJANA MUSIC

Nationality Croatian

Arijana was born in 1991 in Berane, a small town in the north of Montenegro. Being surrounded by the mountains, she fell in love with hiking, camping and biking.
